

Unwinding Anxiety

Feel less anxious each day

Overview

Unwinding Anxiety is an award winning, evidence-based digital therapeutic that combines neuroscience and mindfulness. The app program helps people identify anxious habits, work with anxiety instead of against it, and completely change their relationship to anxiety.

Key features

Unwinding Anxiety consists of 30 modules of guided video and audio lessons, short mindfulness exercises, and powerful anxiety tools. Members will learn how to switch gears the moment anxiety and other unwanted sensations arise, and ultimately change the thought patterns and habit loops that lead to anxiety. Unwinding Anxiety has shown statistically significant reductions in anxiety using validated measures. The program was designed by Jud Brewer, MD, PhD, a renowned thought leader in the neuroscience of habit formation.
